

Data Scientist Certification

Project: data-scientist-esrios

This file contains the jupyter notebook that I have developed with Stratio Intelligence performing a scan of the data and likewise creating a table in crossdata and the model in rocket.

Using the autopipeline tool I also developed another rocket model. In the same way with MLProject I was able to generate another model.

With the workflows I could see how the models work and also how to create models from a workflow.